The Senior Revue of '35

Under the able direction of Miss Dorothy Daly, the Ziegfield of Hinton, the Senior Class presented a revue at the Ritz Theatre, on January 9, that laid the customers in the aisles.

The following program was presented without apologies:

An old-fashioned one-act melodrama—"And the Villain Still Pursued Her" Vocal Solo—"June in January"

Piano Solo-"End of a Perfect Day"

Vocal Solo—"For All We Know"

Trombone Solo-"Winter Wonderland"

Skit-"Levi Goes A-Huntin'."

Tap Chorus.

The cast consisted of the following celebrities: MISSES MARGUERITE ANDERSON, MARGIE ROLLYSON, FRANCES ALDERSON, MARY ALICE RATCLIFF, MARGUERITE MORRIS, MARGUERITE MARTIN, HILDA FERGUSON, JANE PORTER, CAROLYN NEELY, BADENE POWELL, MURIEL LOOMIS, JOSEPHINE RICE, PAULINE SHUMATE, NANCY DALY, and MRS. GLENN MANN, and MESSRS. JOHN SCOTT, JAMES SHELTON, JAMES DAWSON, ELRIDGE CAUDLE, BILL MILLER, and FRANK HANCOCK.

From all indications the public was well pleased with the revue. Nobody asked for a refund (or an encore). The chorus was one of the best amateur performances of its kind ever to be seen in Hinton. They didn't miss even one step. They didn't even look scared. The Senior Class is deeply indebted to Miss Dorothy Daly for her patient efforts in producing a revue that will long be remembered. It was a real pleasure to be in the cast under her supervision.

Senior Farewell

Before beginning, we wish to apologize to Abraham Lincoln, Patrick Henry, Thomas Jefferson, William Shakespeare, Richard Bear, and Anonymous, if any of them happen to be listening in, for stealing their stuff.

A half score and ten years ago our mothers led forth eighty freshly cleaned youngsters on the streets of this fair city and others, dedicated to the proposition that all men and women are created for Hinton High School.

Now we are engaged in a great struggle, testing whether any of us can emerge from this institution without feeling like an unknown quantity. We are gathered here on this solemn occasion to dedicate the remnants to those who are to come. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. (Someone has to be the goat.)

But in a large sense we cannot decorate, we cannot complicate, we cannot allow a performance like this often. The brave men and women who have tried to impart to us the knowledge of the world have complicated it far above our power to extract square root or apply the binomial theorem. The Orange and Black will little note or Miss Brown long remember what we say here, but they can never forget what we did here. It is for you, my dear bewildered friends, rather to be astonished at the finished ping-pong playing which they who struggled here have so nobly exhibited.

In view of our splendid record for the past years, we here highly resolve that this class shall not have passed on in vain; that this school under Mr. R. R. Boone shall have a new epidemic of measles; and that Lightnin' Kinney and Jimmey Lipscomb, flies in the soup, of the students, by the students, and for the students, shall not graduate from Hinton High School.

The next report cards from the teachers will bring to our ears the sound of weeping and gnashing of teeth. Our hearts are already in our throats. Is not Margaret too dear to Skip or Jane too close to John to be frightened at the thought of mere grades? Forbid it, Mr. Pyles! We know not what courses others may take, but as for us, give us liberty or give us the Woman's Home Companion.

We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all students must go to school sometime; that they are deprived by their instructors of certain unalienable rights; that among these are sleep, note-writing, freedom of speech, and pursuit of the opposite sex; that to trample these rights, the Bored of Education is organized in this school deriving its unjust powers without the consent of the sufferers.

Therefore, it is our honest opinion that "to be or not to was," is the question. Whether "tis nobler in the mind to suffer" four more years at college, or to take to heels and by running beat the Ford across the street. To run—to slip —and by a slip to say we meet the body ache and the thousand natural shocks that pedestrians are heir to. 'Tis a consummation especially to be expected. To run—to slip; to slip—perchance to fall. Ay, there's the rub—for in that slip the driver's brakes may not rub, and we shall shuffle off this mortal coil-And now before shuffling off with our diplomas, as a farewell to friends and enemies of our class, we leave you this little poem. It contains the thought of two famous rhymes but never expressed in this manner:

Mary had a little lamb, twinkle, twinkle, little star, Its fleece was white as snow, how I wonder what you are, And everywhere that Mary went, up above the world so high, The lamb was sure to go, like a diamond in the sky.

Have You Heard?

That the halls of the High School are swept every afternoon? That Delbert Ratcliff once called a right end run around left end? That Theodore Simpkins ended it all? That "Skip" Price, captain of the '34 eleven, does not like football? That Mrs. Hathe will see that we get a dam site? That Jane Porter and Margaret Morris SING in the Presbyterian choir? That Nathan Thompson can hit the bull's eye NINE TIMES OUT OF TEN? That "Toddy" Lindsay can hang his hat on his nose? That Leroy Stennett is a "has been" football hero? That Mr. Pyles was a party in a hold-up? That Miss Brown has a Palmer certificate? That Miss Alderson isn't fussy out of school? That Nellie Cundiff was expelled from school for misdemeanor? That James Dawson used to make all A's? That the annual staff had a good idea once? That "Bunny" Boone's favorite hobby is chasing rabbits at night in a car? That Thomas Dawson asked how you talk in shorthand? That there are more pretty girls in this school than any other of the same size? That Inez Brown, violinist; Dorothy Daly, coronettist; Nellie Cundiff, banjoist, once played in the H. H. S. orchestra? That Dorothy Daly won the state oratorical contest in 1925?

To The Teachers

When the sumac boughs are wreathing, Glowing crimson, and the breeze,With its autumn cool, comes breathing Old, old legends to the trees;When, some morning in September, You are watching students pass;Will you pause and just remember All our 1935 class?

When, in merry bands and batches, Other, kinder Seniors come; Will you fail to see our scratches? Will you quite forget our gum? Will you know that we're obeying Some rare precept that you taught? That, e'en when our hair is graying, It will never be forgot?
